Welcome to IDCC26

The International Digital Curation Conference (IDCC) reaches its twentieth iteration in 2026

Since the first conference in 2005, IDCC has welcomed contributions on preservation and management activities that enable the long-term use of research data.

The conference has taken place in Europe, North America, and Australia. It provides individuals, institutions, and organisations a chance to meet, listen, learn, and collaborate on curation policies and practices.

Our conference theme for 2026 is inspired by insights and challenges shared by our community at previous events.

In an era where funding for curation infrastructure faces constraints, and the rise of AI tools constitutes another challenge to responsible access and reuse of data, we invite you to join us as we explore solutions and strategies. We are particularly eager to highlight examples of resilience and resistance in digital curation activities to sustain momentum in data curation and promote social change.

Our Programme will feature keynote talks, workshops and social events designed to foster networking and vibrant conversations, providing ample opportunities to engage with attendees.

This year we are thrilled to host you in the spectacular Hotel Esplanade in Zagreb. Partner with us and join us in embracing optimism and creativity as we navigate these challenges together.

About IDCC

The International Digital Curation Conference (IDCC) is a premier annual event for the digital curation community, organised by the Digital Curation Centre. It offers data practitioners a unique platform to explore the latest policy developments, best practices, and emerging research trends.

IDCC provides exclusive sponsorship opportunities, allowing a select few organizations to showcase their services, products, and events while engaging with a specialised audience.

About DCC

The Digital Curation Centre (DCC) is a world-leading centre of expertise in digital information curation with a focus on building capacity, capability and skills for research data management.

The DCC provides expert advice and practical assistance in storing, managing, protecting, and sharing digital research data. Our resources include online tools, guidance, training, and consultancy services on policy development and data management planning.

Vision

To maintain and enhance our global reputation in a sustainable and rewarding way

Mission

To help organisations worldwide make the best use of data in and for research

Why Sponsor IDCC

Brand visibility

Showcase your organisation and service offering to a new audience and gain visibility within a rapidly growing field.

Access to a global community

Past conference audiences have consistently included over 200 international attendees from 30+ countries from Europe, North America, Australia and Asia.

Become a leader in the field

Sponsoring IDCC aligns your organisation with the forefront of digital curation and data management.

Excellent networking opportunities

Sponsoring IDCC26 provides excellent networking opportunities, allowing you to connect with global leaders in digital curation.

IDCC Sponsor Testimonial

Research Data Alliance Europe

Sponsoring IDCC25 was an exceptional opportunity for RDA Europe and the RDA TIGER project to demonstrate our commitment to advancing technical, semantic, and social interoperability across Europe. The visibility and engagement we gained from discussions with IDCC delegates at the RDA TIGER booth helped us strengthen collaborations, highlight the importance of soft infrastructure via community facilitation and showcase our impact within the research data ecosystem.
